

2 19 23 DR SHANKARA CHETTY ON THE BIOWEAPON SITUATION
Scott Balson Lovinglifetv Dot Com part 2 of 3

This morning, I heard that the police come into the baby's Ward had, well, let's call it kidnap the baby from its parents. And they went out they went ahead and did the operation without any consent from the parents.

I actually got that video where they came in. Yeah.

And I think Scott is two things that they wanted to achieve with that one, and I can guarantee that Jesus would have given that child unvaccinated blood. They could not have a scandal of giving their child vaccinated blood and have their child demise. Yeah. So you would have would have played it and said we're giving him blood. We don't care, but they would have been showed back and vaccinated blood. The second thing that you wanted to achieve was to make it very clear to the world that you have no rights to your children anymore.

Yeah, it will look nice Zealand. New Zealand is a basket case under descender. Just for the record to send the return is a young global leader in the World Economic Forum. I mean, it's just crazy that the guy that just put in as a new prime minister to replace just didn't do them. He's the guy who wanted to mandate the vaccine for every man, woman and child in New Zealand. That's what his any ERG said. For those people who don't get the VAX, we're going to make your life hell that this is the current prime minister in New Zealand, it's sick. Now.

We have to that's where we have to change this. Yeah, the only thing we have as humanity is our voting, ability to vote. And I think when I look at what's going on around the world, the World Health Organization, the UN, unity, all these organizations, so called regulatory authorities that have not been elected, and haven't given a mandate, and because of this, we have no legal recourse or controlling the agenda. And of course, our governments are just puppets to these organizations. So if you want to change that, take a case like South Africa we've got more than enough problems with crime and power and food and the rest and unemployment. But if I choose a politician, they'd only be one question to ask. If you come into power, will you exit from the World Health Organization, United Nations World Economic Forum, all these global organizations to give us our sovereignty that, yeah, and if the answer is yes, I don't even care if it's my labor. The rest of the crap that we go through is irrelevant. If we don't stop this runaway train, electricity problems are the least of our problems. Will I continue to apply these would the Australian Christian Democratic Party, the acdp, and the SNP would both stop having any association with the W f and so on. Now, I just want to pick up on what happened in the last week. I'm not sure if you heard about this, but the new president in Brazil, who was elected under very, very dubious manner, because he was not as popular as Bolsonaro.

He in a press conference last week, said that all children in Brazil have to get the vaccine have to get the vaccine. If the mothers don't allow the kids to have a vaccine, they're going to take off all their social benefits that they've got for their children. In other words, they are they are forcing them to get the vaccine. This is happening in Brazil right now. And you know, I know, Scott, Brazil is the country Bolsonaro himself was completely against the vaccine. Yes, he was. Yeah. And the way he got beaten by Lulu is is the whole country realized it was a scam.

Yeah, but but at least the whole country is standing together to try and change this. And of course in Brazil, that the military has to do what the population says not what the government says. And so they seem to have the military intervene. You know, it's such a strange thing that this has come up. Scott is the vice president for the doctors Federation for the world. Now, this is an organization that was formed in 2020 in BMO, each led by a doctor Femi Costello, when she saw what was going on around the world, she decided she needs doctors to share information, so that we could solve the pandemic. So she formed this doctors Federation and they started getting doctors with novel treatments around the world to present today so that they get this body of information together. And just by chance they heard about the work I was doing. They contacted me to present and select present. Can I took Philip McMullen along because Philip knew the science, and he understood the autoimmunity and how to, you know, question around that bring the science to the picture. I could focus more on the clinical side of things and the perspective and when we presented to them, they were shocked. In fact, a few days after my presentation, they contacted me to say, look, we want to launch this organization in a year or two time with the global COVID summit. And of all the presentations we've heard thus far and already they're covered about 30 countries. They told me they said, Look, you're the only one that got science. Everyone else was touching medications. You brought the science you brought a perspective. So we want you to chair that global summit. You decide who's gonna who won't speak because you understand the science. And so every Sunday night it entailed that I listened to presentations from doctors from different parts of the world. We had three or four presentations every Sunday night, and I read it, question it, you know, review it. But after that initial interaction, they contacted me back a few days later, to say we want another meeting. And this time it's with the board of the off the doctors Federation. We're gonna have a board meeting and we want you to be present and Dr. McMillan and so that we can we had that meeting, and that's when they dropped the bomb on us that they want.

Between the two of us. They want us to be president and vice president because we seem the best suited to understand where the pandemic needs to go in coverage halogens. Congratulations, and thank you. This has been two years already.

I think they've heard about the work I was doing in Southeast Asia and the results we were getting. And I think they also understood that you need someone that could speak to the politicians speak the different languages, dumb it down to the public. You don't make it real. And so I became the vice president. They wanted me to be president and I was sure I would get banned very quickly, but a more dispassionate way. of discussing such things. And he's been the one keeping my frustrations and anger in check. So we became president and vice president of this organization, and very quickly, within three months of four months, this was in 2021 I got contacted. i Well, I got a message from the board to say President bots and other ones who have admitted that he wants you to hold the summit in Brazil. So we had a meeting with President Bolsonaro and he expressed his eagerness to have our organization host our first summit in this country. They were willing to pay for everything Scott.

military support, attaches for everyone invite whoever needed to be invited.

With the second meeting we had was with the military, from Brazil, because we were now at the point where we needed to do planning. We had a Dr. Matos that was going to arrange the medical side of things in Brazil.

We had a meeting with eight of the top resilient military officials so that they could plan where we'd have the security detail around it, because this was going to be a global event where we wanted the World Health Organization's health ministers to come to the party, because the organization was looking at leveling the playing field of science, using only evidence based medicine to move forward. And of course, bringing all the different pillars of medicine to get so that we could make sure that the science shone through. We wanted to be the authority that kept the science and informed with the science, because we're seeing all this nonsense around the world. And so the science was being manipulated.

At that meeting, I had one of the generals, you know, we were trying to be very diplomatic because we want to get around the table with the right movers and shakers. There's no point throwing tantrums and no one's listening, you know?

So, we were being very calm and said, Look, we got four pillars, and this is how we're going to do it. And I remember at that meeting one of the generals put his hand up, and he stopped us there and he said, listen, pillars are in foundation. Plays are built on foundations and foundations.

We need to move quickly if we're going to negate this pandemic.

And he said, you know, Dr. Chatterjee testified to the global grand jury and I watched his testimony six states, and I know he knows what's going on. and so that's the reason I'm here. so please, clarify. and so I had to calm him down and say, no, no, no. understand, clearly. We're going to do what needs to get done. We just have to do it very diplomatically. we don't want to start a war. We don't want to divide. that wasn't that was what the vaccine was meant to do it divided society divided families and divided the medical fraternity divided country. And we don't need any more. If we're going to build it on me.

If we're going to build an army must be any more than that. If we're going to burn it on me.

There's faith and love. And otherwise we're not going to go anywhere. And so we went through planning this.

It fell apart simply because it was close to the Brazilian elections. And the founders of the organization felt that we shouldn't be used as an election to.

Well, I do reject that in a big way.

We could have we could have turned this on its head. But then I've seen this a lot Scott through my journey with COVID. And when you have a group of people there are some that will fall for forfeit everything to do the right thing. But there are always others who are more interested in the egos wanting the right, wanting to be in the limelight, wanting to be the first to say something, but that's something that doesn't bring you anything. And so I I am in the process of slowly stepping away from that organization.

Not because I think there are people that are better suited to form to fill my position, Scott, but I also feel that with where healthcare is going, without 100 years of suppression of alternative treatments. And before that 100 years, alternative treatments were mainstream. So the Rockefellers came in and they booted mainstream medicine into an alternative medicine corner and made their chemical interventions or allopathic interventions mainstream. And then they call us universities into stop to stop teaching doctors about alternative treatments, and they cause research facilities and governments. And so medicine became only about chemicals. And so I think if we're going to level the global playing field for healthcare, any organization with a statute needs to have its foundations in the East, where it's kept and founded with all the different Eastern medical systems that were sidelined. there with the things we started to test we're gonna have collusion and corruption and the pharma industry already having its talents and that's not religious. I want to cover a couple of points, which I think are very important. The first one is for those who are listening.

I've got a live stream with Dr. Felipe who's famous for his blood slides.

We're doing that on Friday, the 17th at 8pm Johannesburg time on loving life tv.com And he's going to be presenting his latest blood slides which are now from largely the vaccinated people. And you will see the progression of damage that is continuing to take place for the vaccinated and obviously we'll be talking about the shedding aspect as well, but that's going to be a very disturbing live stream because for people who think that the vaccine wanes after a period of time, that's not what's going on inside people's veins and arteries. Now the other thing Shankar is that we haven't touched on this and I think it's important vails vaccine Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome. Now that appears to be one of the elements that they've put into this bio weapon to damage people's immune system deliberately. Did you want to talk to that?

Doesn't it in in different ways. There's two different mechanisms when it comes to gesture immunity that I played. That one is that in the spike protein, there is the GP 120 sequence from HIV, which actually causes immune suppression. And so I can understand why people that take up to GMs have the immunity is completely destroyed. We've seen that clearly that the vaccine is toxic and it's destroying people's immunity. But then the other thing that I spoke to which is now coming to bear, you remember when they said that the vaccine prevents severe illness and death. Now, that's not a vaccine effect. That's a therapeutic effect. Now I spoke to that saying that look, if you see the decrease in severe illness and death, we know that the severe illness and get these being caused by an allergic process, and you are giving people something that they are allergic to. So the only way that it could explain the decrease in severe illness and death was that the spike protein that you were giving them in the vaccine was actually desensitizing. So it's like someone with a peanut allergy. If you keep giving them a little bit of peanut just enough so that they don't react badly. Eventually, they won't react to peanuts.

And so it was giving you a decrease in severity, by its ability to stimulate tolerance to an allergy, not in its ability to stimulate immunity to violence. And so if you were seeing benefit, it was from tolerance. It not was not from immunity. Now what's happened, they've tested patients serially, and they found that with every vaccine, there is antibody, antibody immunoglobulin, which is called IgG. For that increases with every dose of the vaccine. And with people that got three doses, it's time. Now what's what IgG for deaths. It's very specific for whatever it's made for, but what it actually does is build tolerance, not immunity. So in those patients that are triple vest, basically what has happened is the body is now going to say to the rest of the immunity that it must not attack the virus it must tolerate.

So now when you get COVID, your body won't fight it. The IgG four will bind to the virus because it recognizes it and by binding to the virus it would make all the other immune cells lay off. And that's what IgG for ducks, it binds to things specific and it tells the rest of your immunity, nothing to see here don't attack. So those patients that have that high level of IgG for are gonna get COVID they won't have symptoms because they're not responding. So you're not going to notice anything that spread through their bodies, because there's nothing trying to stop it. And you might not get any symptoms. You just find one for a day or two suddenly feeling like they are not feeling too well. And then there's demand.

And that is something that is so frightening, because we're going to have people demise with absolutely no understanding. And if people don't choose we're not going to look in the right places.

Just to be clear, this this is a planned outcome by the Department of Defense. This is not just coincidental, this is planned.

There are too many things Scott that like I said, of transhumanism property control and of course we know that human beings by the standards with AI and robotics have largely become obsolete.

So now they rather have AI and robotics to the work and we don't need to feed so many mouths so we need to call the population that's what we are commodities we're using.

Yeah, and throughout the pandemic, everything that seemed nonsensical when looked at in that light made sense. You've got a virus that was engineered. It was meant to scare people.

It had to have some sort of fatality, but that fatality needed to be difficult to understand.

And it needed to be there clearly evident the fatality so that it would scare people and they will do everything to enhance that fear into taking a vaccine. I put it in one of the one of the broadcasts that I did, Scott, I put it to people they say oh, if you get COVID Why aren't you dying? You spike protein so toxic, you know, and what I was explaining to people is this things health things can be allergic, but they can also have a biologic effect.

Now, to just put context, penicillin is an antibiotic, but for penicillin to have its antibiotic effects. You've got to take a five day course.

But if you take one for one catalyst, you're not going to get the antibiotic effect you need to buy.

So what's transpired here, imagine we gave the entire planet, one tablet of penicillin, the virus, a little bit of Spike protein. So we gave everyone on the planet, one dose of penicillin, so it's not acting as it's not acting as an antibiotic. But if we shut down the planet after we gave them that one dose, and we said nobody must get treated, until they end up in hospital. All people that were allergic to penicillin were dumb.

Because they were allergic and we didn't treat them. Now that's what the virus did. It created an allergic reaction. We didn't allow treatment, people that that was used to scare people into rushing off to take the vaccine. And that's why we didn't realize that's why it's therapeutic option. Sorry. That's why therapeutic options like either mitten and hydroxychloroquine had to be banned so that people couldn't get better.

They couldn't get better, and they could maintain the EUA if there was some other therapeutic to take the vaccine away. And that was a controversy in my article. That's why my article is so controversial. I have one line in it right at the end of the article that says if early treatment could negate all the mortality and morbidity of COVID illness, it would make a spike based vaccine rushed to market wholly unnecessary. Yeah.

That was the elephant in the room for Big Pharma. Yeah. Yeah.

Look with the with the EUA having to be in place. And of course you want to engineer this. You want people to see that hey, people died and nobody was understanding. So once the guy started reacting on the eighth day, he thought, well, let's see tomorrow. They said, you can only go to hospital with this. And eventually when he realized he can't manage you on the 13th day of hospital. Now in hospital, the doctor that first examined him on that he had multi organ failure so he tried to save his life. But nobody told us for a doctor, that this man was stung with the bee five days ago and he's highly allergic.

And so he had no direction in treating. It was just trying to save his life. And then of course, they influenced him once he had a few patients die in his hands. He too was terrified.

And so then they started saying no user disappeared, ventilate and more important, but he thought he's trying to do the best he can. You know, I've spoken on the flip side of that Scott, Professor, not to London. He was running the ICU at George Macquarie hospital during the pandemic is a cardiac anesthesiologist and an intensivist and he was head of the ICU at George McCollum through the first two waves of COVID and the early 30s. And he contacted me to say in the first and second wave they were all scratching around, nothing was working. People were dying on ventilators. They were really struggling to find anything that would work.

And he said to me, said Doc, you know, at the tail end of the second wave, I saw your work on hypersensitivity and I thought to myself, you know, absolutely no one is looking at it in that right. Absolutely. No one, everyone's talking about a viral pneumonia. And he felt that you know this and so he decided to try my perspective. And he told me, you know, when I tried it, I was amazed at how it worked and how it curbed all the ventilations. No one needed to be ventilated anymore. He says a dump in the third way. George Macaulay formally adopted your protocol. What are the medications as the formal protocol for treating COVID And in the third way, they have the best outcomes of any ICU in the country.

I just want to go back to vaids and go we've talked about if that works with the the VAX What What about natural immunity and the reason I said is because June last year, I got homograph and I had it for about two days. I got a positive test. It was so mild. It was ridiculous. I mean, I coughed I think three or four times a day, and after two days it was gone. But apparently I have gotten our natural immunity. So what is is natural immunity going to cover variants in the future. How will that work?

Scott the way natural immunity works when you take in a virus. Yeah, basically your body looks at it as foreign.

It detects it. It chops it up into 100 pieces. Then it takes every single one of those pieces and analyzes it and then makes antibodies to each piece.

Right. Whereas the spike protein is just giving you one antibody naturally maybe in your range. So it would take a very drastic change in the virus for it to be completely new to you.

Even if it changed 20 different pieces. You still got 80 pieces that you recognize, yeah. So you get new variants where your immunity won't be as effective. But when you get that new variance, your body will chop it up. It will figure out how to do it knows how to take care of 80 pieces. The 20 new pieces that it doesn't take care of. It will learn to and so you're constantly building this immune library towards variants you're upgrading it's like a computer software upgrade.

You got the program, you just have to upgrade is really huge piece of this whole story because you've got this synthetic messenger RNA being experimentally tried it on the global population.

So the bottom and if you look at it in a nice body, it has got this absolutely magnificent natural immunity and that has been basically pushed aside for the southern thing which is rather like you know you've got up to the Lisa in that gallery call that a huge gallery terrace beautiful painting. It's all like a little line drawing with a three year old kid and putting it alongside it and saying, Well, this is just as good as mine at least.

Actually, they said it's actually better.

Well, yeah, well that's cool following science. Yeah. Yeah, this was look, there was an agenda. They knew that people that get the virus and have natural immunity if they acknowledged that population to be vaccinated. It'd be stemmed from vaccination and they didn't want anyone exempt from the vaccine. So they they probably disregarded everything. I mean, we have to point Scott will be vaccinating pregnant woman, children babies.

risk of dying of COVID

I mean, I've seen the children. One has had major problems in all scars. I had 110 year old child who had the second phase of this reaction. And of course, his parents rushed him to hospital. They treated him he survived. He came out terribly ill. They eventually brought him to me and I said why didn't you come to me first? He's having the reaction. I put him on meds he recovered, but because of that stress that he went through in that allergic process in hospital and now I mean a 10 year old is diabetic and he has to be in constant treatment. Yes, he was obese to start with, but that's the only child that I've had out of 100,000 So why don't we vaccinate Yeah, it's gonna destroy these kids immunity.

And I think this is not something that's new. There's a lot that's going on in the past century.

That has been very disingenuous when it comes to medical science. And I think we need to we need doctors to stand up and open their eyes.

But but as such, for the public that listening, I'm sure there's a lot of fear in vaccinated people about what's transpired. We will be very fearful. And everyone that took the vaccine, Scott did it with good intention. They were trying, but it's so it's terrible to figure it out that you tried to help and you were lied to and your policy.

Yeah, the one mitigating factor seemed that the vaccine was so volatile. I'm hopeful that a lot of people got that. The vaccine that was left on the shelf for too long. Got the active but they also found when they did the initial tests, when they did the clinical trials, Pfizer. They found that the RNA maybe 75% Integrity, but when they did, best production that integrity of the messenger RNA dropped to 55%. So a lot of it was very, very poor manufacturing process, but that's where the problem comes in. Is that percentage of messenger RNA that was degraded in the vaccine will lead to a lot of different fragments in the vaccine segments of and we don't know what those fragments called for what kind of proteins because they pieces now, so you don't know what words of the sentence they're going to make. And what that how that's going to impact on the body. So until we look at the vaccine, see how they degrade understand. degraded products influence the body. It is an unknown substance that was injected into full of contaminants.

We belong to us a fascinating discussion. And I gotta tell you that a lot of people have commented and said, This is clauses congrats. this is the best live stream ever. And Greg says yes, there is a huge amount of support for what you're saying.

I'm gonna wrap this live stream otherwise it will be goes too long.

And we don't want that people have got to watch really really fancy discussion. So, I've got two questions for the reconstituted inspectors as does start to show current contact.
